

This figure is a heatmap visualization of a 2D spatial distribution. The color scale ranges from dark purple (low values) to bright yellow (high values). The highest values are concentrated in a horizontal band across the center of the image, with several smaller, less intense regions scattered elsewhere.

